Design of Washington quarter showing a profile of George Washington

5 oz of .999 fine Silver

$0.25 face value per coin

Cumberland Gap National Historical Park contains more than 20,000 acres located at the border of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia. Originally used by Native Americans following migratory species, Cumberland Gap was also important for early American settlers and during the Civil War. An estimated 1.2 million people visit the park each year.

The U.S. Mint began its America the Beautiful series in 2010, releasing a unique design for a national park, forest or monument in each state and U.S. territory. The 5 oz Silver coins have gained popularity over the years for their designs and limited mintages. Their premiums have consistently increased year over year as well, adding further collectible appeal to these .999 fine Silver coins.
