

2015 5 oz Silver ATB Kisatchie National Park, LA

Established in 1930, the Kisatchie National Forest in central Louisiana protects representative examples of the northern Louisiana landscape. There is a wide array of plant species found across the forest's 604,000 acres. Biologists have identified 155 species of birds, 48 mammals, 56 reptiles and 30 amphibian species within the forest. The forest offers a variety of recreational activities and more than 100 miles of trails for hiking, mountain biking and horseback riding.

The U.S. Mint began its America the Beautiful series in 2010, releasing a unique design for a national park, forest or monument in each state and U.S. territory. The 5 oz Silver coins have gained popularity over the years for their designs and limited mintages. Their premiums have consistently increased year over year as well, adding further collectible appeal to these .999 fine Silver coins.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Second coin of the America the Beautiful Silver Bullion Coin™ Program released by the U.S. Mint in 2015.
- Individual coins will come in capsules.
- Multiples of 10 will be delivered in mint-issued tubes without capsules.
- Orders of 100 come in mint-issued monster boxes also without capsules.

APMEX[®]
Investments You Hold™

UNITED STATES MINT

SPECIFICATIONS

ACTUAL SILVER WEIGHT: 5 troy oz

PURITY: .999 fine Silver

MANUFACTURER: United States Mint

FACE VALUE: $0.25

DIAMETER: 76.2 mm

THICKNESS: 4.064 mm

PRODUCT ID: #87607