

2016 1 kilo Silver Aztec Calendar (w/Box & COA)

Laser-etched timber lid for case

Recognizable Aztec calendar design

Silver weight and purity

Date of minting

Booklet detailing the Aztec calendar's history

High-quality display case

Magnifying glass

The Aztec calendar was created by the Mesoamerican dwellers between the 14th and 16th centuries and this large Silver coin celebrates this iconic stone. Each of these coins contains a full kilo, or 32.15 oz, of .999 fine Silver. The 110 mm diameter shows the Aztec calendar in exquisite detail, and each coin comes with a magnifying glass to allow you to see every bit of the design.

There are just 1,000 Silver Aztec Calendar coins produced for sale worldwide, meaning this is sure to be a highly desired collectible. Additionally, this nice Silver coin is a North American APMEXclusive[®], adding even more collectible appeal to the .999 fine Silver content.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Established in 1535, La Casa de Moneda de México is the oldest mint in the Americas.
- Features the iconic Aztec calendar.
- Worldwide mintage of just 1,000 coins.
- Beautiful case to easily store and display the large Silver coin.

APMEX[®]
Investments You Hold™

OM
Casa de Moneda
de México

SPECIFICATIONS

ACTUAL SILVER WEIGHT: 1 kilo (32.15 troy oz)

PURITY: .999 fine Silver

YEAR: 2016

MANUFACTURER: Casa de Moneda de México

DIAMETER: 110 mm

THICKNESS: 11.5 mm

PRODUCT ID: 101625